Review Guidelines for Zoning Map And Ordinance Text Changes

RZ-3/5

A. Zoning Map Changes

The overall consideration is whether the rezoning request is reasonable under the existing circumstances.

When considering rezonings, the Commission will review such applications in terms of their meeting the following considerations:

1. That a mistake was made originally when the property was zoned to the present district;
2. That conditions have changed in the area generally, or the city as a whole, which would justify the rezoning;
3. There is convincing demonstration that all uses permitted under the proposed district would be in the general public's interest and not merely in the interest of an individual or small group;
4. There is convincing demonstration that all uses permitted under the proposed district would be appropriate in the area included in the proposed change;
5. There is convincing demonstration that the character of the area or neighborhood will not be adversely affected by any use permitted in the proposed district change;
6. The proposed change is in accord with city's Comprehensive Plan and sound planning principles;
7. The proposed zoning change is consistent with the zoning plans of adjacent governmental units;
8. Other reasons the Commission may find pertinent in considering the particular zone change.

B. Zoning Text Changes

Not all zoning changes involve map changes. In some instances, adding a permitted or special land use or revising the zoning district standards may be a better alternative. This is true particularly when the issue in question appears to reflect an oversight or technical deficiency in the construction or wording of the ordinance.

When considering text changes, the Commission will review such applications in terms of their meeting the following considerations:

1. That a mistake was made originally when the ordinance was drafted;
 2. That conditions have changes which would justify the text changes;
 3. There is convincing evidence that the text change would be in the general public's interest and not merely in the interest of an individual or small group;
 4. The proposed change is in accord with the city's Comprehensive Plan and sound planning principles;
 5. Other reasons the Commission may find pertinent in considering the particular text change.
